This seminar will look at the relative advantages of the United Kingdom, Switzerland and Monaco for high net worth individuals seeking to take up permanent residence in one of these jurisdictions.

Recent changes in the UK tax legislation have affected resident non-domiciled persons. The changes in UK law may make Switzerland even more attractive as a residence for wealthy foreigners, even if there have also been changes in Swiss tax law and administrative practice.

Monaco is also aiming to enhance its traditional attraction as a tax free residence for high net worth foreigners and the advantages of this jurisdiction will be explained.

This seminar will offer clear advice on immigration procedures and pre-planning techniques for high net worth individuals, their tax advisers, investment managers and bankers.
